

NATURAL HISTORY MUSEUM

The National History Museum has recently been revalidated as a Children's University Learning Destination. Children can collect stamps in their passports if they complete one of the validated worksheets. General admittance does not count towards a stamp.